THE CHAMPIONSHP.

THE CANADIAN BEATS THE EN-GLISH OARSMAN.

A Good Day, a Good Start and Hanlon Beats Elliott by Eight Longths.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, June 16 .-The sculling match for the championship and £200 a side and the Sportsmen's Challenge Cup between the English champion William Elliott, of Blythe, who had twice won the cham pionship, and Edward Hanlon, of Toronto, Ontario, who defeated John Hawdon, of Delevale, on the 5th of May last, came off to-day on the Tyne championship course, and resulted in an easy victory for Hanlon. The start was made from a point off the Mansion House. The weather was fine though dull, and the water beautifully smooth. There was an immense concourse of spectators, and twenty steamers laden with passengers followed the race. Five to two on Hanlon had been laid during the morning, but Elliott came into much better favor just prior to the start and only a slight shade of odds was laid on the Canadian. Elliot won the toss and teok the northern shore. -fter some delay at 12:15 o'clock the men got off to a capital start. Hanlon dashed in at a stroke at the rate of forty-two to the minute and at once drew toward the front. Elliott struck at the rate of forty to the minute, and exerted all his enormous strength but splashed now and then, and his boat did not travel well. Hanlon got a lead of four lengths at Red Heugh Bridge Time for the mile was 6 minutes 11½ seconds. Hanlon now slowed down and contented himself with keeping the advantage and eventually won very easily by eight lengths in the good time of 21 minutes and 1 second. There was an immense crowd at Scottswood who cheered Hanlon to the echo.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—SENATE.— The Senate took up the bill introduced by Senator McPherson, to amend the act of 1793 in regarding to enrolling and licensing vessels engaged in the coast-ing trade and fisheries. Senator Davis, of West Virginia, from the Committee on Appropriations, stated that in consideration of the present state of business before the Senate, the committee were unable to concur in the date in the House Joint Resolution fixing to-morrow as the day of adjournment. They hoped to be able to report the resolution soon and fix an early day for ad-

The supplemental judicial appropriation bill being before the Senate, Senator Dawes opposed it as the most pernicious of Democratic measures and tending to shake the confidence of all justice-loving people in our judicial system. Senator Hill, of Georgia, believed the intent of the existing law wasgood, and if it were properly administered no new legislation was necessary, but the Federal Judges depart from State methods and under rules of court introduce politics into the jury system. He regretted the necessity of recognizing political differences in this bill. disgrace rested upon those who first brought them into the jury system, not upon the supporters of this bill, which would partially remedy an established evil, Conkling thought proper care for the abuses mentioned was to amend the present'law and not pass the new one, which does not pretend to abolish the evil. Senator Hill replied that he believed that the practical effort of the bill would be to compel the return to State systems. Senator Morgan said he entertained belief resulting from experience in the Southern States that radical reform was required in the Federal jury law;among other things he pointed out that no legal remedy exists against an alleged abuse by the court officer of power given him by the rule of the court. If the court was satisfied with the action of its officers there was no recourse. Courts consist not alone of judges but of judges and juries to ether. The judge is appointed under a well defined law and the independent factor, the jury, should be elected under laws as carefully outlined-not by the ungoverned choice of the marshal. In 1862 the government thought it necessary to introduce politics into the qualification of Federal jurors. Leaving the question whether that was right or necessary at the time, general amnesty has since gone out for all political crimes, and there seems be no reason for making the jury-box the only place where the political disabilities are to be perpetuated. In further remarks he showed how the laws deprived good citizens of the right to sit on juries and be tried by juries of their peers. Politics had already been recognized in the courts. He regretted it, but we were legislating in view of facts, not of what ought to be. He read numerous affidavits showing corruption among Federal officers in Alabama, and advocated a bill as likely to check them. On motion of Wallace, the words "except," as provided for in (section 3732, revised statutes, were inserted after the clause prohibiting in-curment by the War and Navy Departments for necessary expenses, but nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent any judge in the dispractice from ordering names of jurors to be drawn from boxes used by State anthorities.

Apprehended Failures.

LONDON, June 16 .- The Times' financial article, referring to the condition of the money market, says: Difficulties are still apprehended in the provinces and some very heavy failures would probably have occurred before now but for the fact that the provincial banks interested prefer to help their customers for the time being rather than let it thought that they have made any losses What would in ordinary circumstances have been failures have by the help afforded have been in same instances been turned into a kind of forced private liquidations. All this is well known in the city, and makes money lenders more suspicions and cautious than ever A real revival of trade and brisk demand for money would probably reveal enough weakness or insolvency in several quarters to ample justify the caution now exercised.

The Tramping Tramps.

Louisburg Times. In Warren county there lives a very estimable citizen of about seventy sum-mers, of whom we learn the following very remarkable circumstances:
Mr. D— is a wealthy old gentleman of about seventy years of age. He has been married forty five years, and during this time he never was from his family but three nights, and those nights he was caught upon the grand jury at Raleigh, and of course could not get to them. He never rode a mile on the cars, or a public conveyance of any kind, and was never out of the five counties of Warren, Halifax, Granville, Wake and Franklin. He was always considered a celebrated hunter, and he can to-day jump upon his horse, and fox-hunt with any of the young hunts-

We doubt whether there is any other man in these five counties, of whom such can be said.

Morehead City Items.

Correspondence of the News. MOREHEAD CITY, June 16 .- On Friday night an unusually large audience gathered at the school room to witness the closing exercises of the school, which has been conducted by Professors Lee & Brinson, since last September. The recitation was elegant much to the surprise of all present. The singing was beautiful in recitation, impressive in sentiment, was a subject of praise from the audience. Too much cannot be said in praise of the worthy superintendents for the efficient manner in which they conducted the school, which will be continued the first of September next. The Macon House at this place has been purchased by Messrs. Davis & Wiggins, and thoroughly overhauled, repaired and furnished with new fur niture and will be kept up to the standard of the best sea-side summer resorts in the South.

In consequence of the past week of good weather, the growing crops in this county are looking very fine and give promise of a good harvest. The melon crops are very fine, the prospects are our farmers will do better than any previous year.

The rice culture is claiming attention of the farmers of this county. Much of our land is adapted for it, and it has been ascertained that it will produce as many bushels per acre as corn, and at the present prices will be twice as profitable. Quite a number of our farmers have sown this year. We understand that Mr. J. H. Davis, has sown one hundred acres of his North River farm, which bids fair for a good yield.

A revival closed here last week, with quite a number taken into the fold. We are glad to learn of the NEWS being extensively patronized. It has been a watchful sentinel on the tower, guarding the interests of the people. May it live and prosper many years. D. C. T.

DID CHLORAL KILL HER? MISS LILIAN DUER TESTIFIES IN

HER OWN BEHALF. The Prisoner's Account of how her Playmate was Shot---The Affair

an Accident. Snow HILL, Maryland., June 13 .-In the Duer trial to-day Dr. Paul Jones was called by the defense and testified that he was familiar with the properties of chloral. His opinion was that death resulted from the use of chloral. Dr. E. M. Tingle testified in regard to the use and effect of chloral, and said that it had no curative property, and can only assist nature when properly used. He declined to give an opinion of the cause of her death, but thought it improbable that it was caused by the pistol. He said he did not know the condition of Miss Hearn when chloral wsa administered.

Miss Lilian Duer, the prisoner. then took the stand, and having removed her veil, gave her testimony. The interesting points of her testimony were the following: I am twenty-one years old and have resided nearly all my life in Pocomoke City; it is my native place; knew Ella Hearn about four years; we were al-ways very intimate, and a great deal together; there was a very great personal attachment between us: we were in the habit of walking together almost everywhere in the place; we walked in Hearn's woods very frequently [A pistol was here shown witness.] I had it nearly a year before this affair took place; I think I got it near Christmas, a year ago; I got it at Miss Hearn's suggestion; Ella and I were in the habit of using it together; we would tack up an envelope or some mark and shoot at it: we would do this just as we took a no tion, sometimes once a month, and sometimes oftener. This continued until a little over two months before the accident. I did not have the pistol for two or three months before the accident. I had lent it to

Mr. Corbin.
I told Miss Hearn at her home on Sunday I had got the pistol back on Saturday afternoon. On Monday night Ella came to our house. I sat down by Ella and had a pleasant conversation; the subjects talked of were politics and the deaconship of the Episcopal church. I also remember that we were looking over the Episcopal prayer book to see what the duties of a deacon were. Ella remained until 10 o'clock. After she got to the front door Ella said she had come around three times to take a walk and found that Corbin was there each time, and wanted to know what he was doing there so much. I told her I did not know, but guessed he came to pass away the time. Louisa says, "I'll tell what is the matter, Lilly; Ella is jeal-ous of him," and I said. "That's all foolishness." Ella wanted me to go around home with her, and afterward asked me again to be sure and come around next day. Mr. Corbin asked where we were going, and Ella replied, "We are going in the woods." That was the first I knew he was there. I did not go off the doorstep, and never in my life said, "Before God, Ella, if you don't go with me to the woods will never ask you to go anywhere again." I did not stamp my feet or scratch my head. I next saw Ella at her house the next afternoon. Ella was sitting at the ma-chine, and I sat down beside her on a box; Mrs. Hearn was lying down on a lounge, and I commenced joking with her about wearing a slat bonnet and green spectacles. I handed some cubeb berries to Ella, who refused them, and then leaned across Ella and handed them to her mother; as I did so Ella struck me with a needle, and I said, "Hold up, don't do that any more;" and threw two or three cubebs down Ella's back; I had an engagement at 4 o'clock, and got up and said it was get-ting late, and I had to be going; Ella told me to sit down a few minutes and she would go to the door with me. I sat down and got up again to go, when Mrs. Hearn said to Ella: "Give me the work, I'll finish it, and you go to the door with Lil;" Ella followed me out of the room and shut the door after us. I said to Ella: "I see you are not going out;" Ella replied: "No; I've got that old dress to finish." I then opened the door, and it struck me, which the w me into a sitting position. I commenced laughing, and Ella also laughed aloud. I went to the gate and may have walked back. While we were talking, Ella said, "I am real cold, come in and tell me all about it." We went in and Ella shut the door. I then told Ella I had got my pistol back. I took it out and told her I had intended to shoot that afternoon if we had gone out together. Ella was leaning against the door and I was leaning over the banisters at the foot of the steps, the pistol in my right hand, holding it at half cock with my thumb, and turning the chambers with my right hand, looking to see which was charged as I knew some were not. I said to Ella that I had that afternoon, if we had gone out. Ella replied that I had done so well the last time, that she would not wonder if I had done so. I looked down to the floor, and said: "Yes, that is always my luck." That moment I was putting the hammer down with my gloved hand when it slipped, and the pisto was discharged.

I had not the least intent to fire the pistol. I did know it went off. It was purely unintentional. I heard the report, looked up and saw Ella's mouth bleeding; Ella went into the sitting-room. I opened the door for her. Her mother ran as far as the 'table and ex-claimed: "My God! She is shot!" and then ran out of the door. I have some recollection of calling Mrs. Hearn in and sitting her down; Mrs. Clark and the neighbors then came in; afterward I do not remember sufficiently to tell what took place. I gave the pistol to some one, but do not know who. I was so much surprised that I was ut-terly confounded. Dr. Truitt told me that Ella was not seriously hurt, that he would have the ball out the next day and she would be well in a few days. I cannot state with precision what took place between the time the pistol was discharged and the time Mr. Clark came in. It was so unexpected to me that I was entirely thrown off my balance. I was sorry, of course, that Elia was shot; it troubled me a great deal. I had on each hand a new black kid glove worn but once before. There was no hostility betwee 1 Ella and me. We were never better triends in our lives than we were then; we never had a serious quarrel, and only a few spats. The last spat had been six or eight months before.

Mr. Hearn told me he believed I was a lady of honor, and so no charge what-ever was to be laid to me. I went up stairs when Ella aroused and "There is Lil, now." Mr. Hearn asked me to go to the bed to her. I went to the bedside, when Ella threw her arms around my neck and asked me to kiss the morning of night.

around my neck and asked me to kiss ther on her eyes. I did as she requested. She asked me what had happened. I told her she had been shot. She asked me who did it. I replied, "I did it." Ella said, "You didn't intend to do it, did you? They told me you intended to kill me dead, and would do it again. Would you? I told her "No." She asked me if I did not love her, and I told her I loved her too well to shoot her. Ella asked me why I had not been to see her; she had sent several notes for me to come. I told her I had not received any of her notes. Ella asked me to stay all night. When I was sent down stairs, as I passed out of the room I heard Mrs. Dennis and Mrs. Hearn say to Ella: "Lie down and think no more about her; she did in-tend to kill." Jennie Hearn came to me and told me that her father did not want me to come to the house.

Agricultural Colleges.

Buffalo Courier. Why is it that agricultural colleges are not appreciated in this country? A few years ago a furore existed for the founding of this class of institutions. The one thing the country was thought to need was scientific schooling for the farmer of the future. As a result a number of colleges of bucolic science were founded, some of them richly endowed. But the universal experience we believe, is that they cannot get pupils to come to them, even for nothing. The agricultural feature of Cornell, although a fundamental condition of its endowment by the State is fast sinking out of sight from lack of patronage. The State Agricultural College of Pennsylvania, with its two experimental farms, has an endowment of nearly a million dollars, enjoys an annual income of $60,000 and employs eleven professors, all for the purpose of teaching forty-six boys. Several generousy endowed institutions of similar nature in the New England States lavish their educational facilities on two or three pupils each, the faculty making a show of earning their salaries by researches in the natural sciences having a bearing upon agriculture. In short, it is pretty plain that the class of young men who are in a position to avail themselves of the advantages of these colleges have no ambition to become farmers, while those who are destined to till the soil are not the kind who go to colleges. We may hope for the time when agriculture will be recognized as one of the learned professions and followed by the college-bred, but the time is not yet.

A Sea Serpent as Thick as a Junk's Mast.

Tokio Times. Captain Davison, master of the Mitsu Bishi steamship Kiushia Maru, gives the following relation of what passed before his eyes on his voyage from Riu Kiu to Kobe in the early part of this month. The statement is duly signed by himself and countersigned by Mr. John McKechnie, the chief officer, and its authenticity appears to be beyond lestion :

Saturday, April 5th, at 11:30 a. m., Cape Satano distant about nine miles. the chief officer and myself saw a whale jump clear out of the sea about a quar-ter of a mile away. Shortly after it leaped out again, when I saw there was a thing attached to it. Got glasses, and on the next leap distinctly saw some-thing hold on to the belly of the whale. The latter gave one spring clear of the water, and myself and the chief officer then observed what appeared to be a large creature of the snake species rear itself about thirty feet out of the water. It appeared to be about the thickness of junk's mast, and, after standing for about ten seconds in an erect position, it descended into the water, the upper end going first. With my glasses I made out the color of the Charlotte Observer. Mr. Ellison Walker, of Steel Creek township, this county, received by yes-terday morning's mail letters-patent for an improvement which he has recently made in steam engines. Mr. Walker is the inventor of the Walker leather brush for cotton gins, which ha been so generally introduced and which has acquired such wide-spread popularity. The exact nature of Mr. Walklarity. The exact nature of Mr. Walk-er's latest invention cannot be fully explained here. It is enough, at present that he claims that his engine, which can be used for all the purposes to which any other stationary engine can be applied, can be built at from 15 to 20 per cent. less cost than any other en-gine capable of the same work, and will furnish 15 per cent. more power than any other engine using the same Mr. Walker is an ingenious and thoroughly practical man and those who are best acquainted with his previous inventions have no doubt of the thorough utility of this.

Prayers of Many Follow Her. Tarboro Southerner, 12th.

Mrs. Moon, after a fortnight's faithful labor in the Lord's vineyard, left for Wilson yesterday morning. That there were not more penitents and converts is certainly no fault of hers. In some respects she is the most powerful preacher to whom we ever listened. Revs. L. L. Nash and C. M. Cook arrived in the early part of the week and lent valuable aid. Mrs. Moon and her hard made many friends here and husband made many friends here, and will be long gratefully remembered. Her preaching commanded full houses to the very last. The prayers of many follow her in her Godly mission.

A Handsome Pet.

Charlotte Observer. A friend down South has sent to Captain Pride Jones, of the Statesville Railroad, an alligator which, though of tender years, is four and a half feet long and more terrible to look upon than ar army of banners. The gift is a veritable white elephant on the hands of its recipient who, instead of going to sleep yesterday, after his run of the night be fore, sat up all day trying to decide what to do with it. At a late hour of the evening he made up his mind to put it in Phifer's pond for safe-keeping and to entertain the people who are in the habit of going in bathing there.

Why, Indeed?

Jackson Patriot. Why do the Republicans fight se strenuously against forbidding the use of troops at the polls if they do not mean to use them? Why are they so determinedly opposed to forbidding Federal interference with elections if they do not intend to employ a score of Davenports in 1880?

Would Greet Them Kindly. Gardner (Mass.) News.

We believe the people of Springfield would greet the appearance of Hampton, Lamar, or any of the rest, with lively interest and heartfelt kindness. If the Republican's counsel prevails. the coming anniversary in Springfield will be a notable one in the history of this State, and almost national in its importance and suggestiveness.

COMMENCEMENT SEASON. CONTINUATION OF THE EXER-

CISES AT DAVIDSON. The Graduating Class--- Distributing

of the Prizes ... The Musical Programme at Wilson.

Correspondence of the News. DAVIDSON COLLEGE, June 12 .- The day was bright and dark by turns, and the immemorial tradition is henceforth "null and void," that it never rains at Commencement, although the showers were favorable, as only in the afternoon was it damp, and the evening was calm and brilliant. The trains brought in large numbers, and all sorts of vehicles emptied their animated load on the college green. The chapel is said to be the largest hall in the State, was more than crowded, and the author tive and delighted to the very last. Punctually at ten, the Chief Marshal, Mr. T. C. Hardie, of New Orleans, caused the line to be formed in front of the old chapel. Preceded by the band, the students, graduating class, Trustees, and Faculty, marched to the chapel, entering through open ranks in reversed order. Many distinguished guests and friends were on the rostrum among them, Rev. Dr. Mider, of Charlotte, Judge Fowle, Judge Schenck, Judge Avery, Col. Holt, of Haw River. Colonel Little, of Richmond county, Rev. L. McKinnon, President of the Board of Trustees, and other ministers distinguished in their sacred calling. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. A. W. Miller, of Charlotte. The salutatory was delivered in English, (most acceptably to the audience), by B. Palmer Reid, of Reidville, S. ident, Rev. Dr. Hepburn, announced the distinctions; the list of proficients and honor men in the various classes and departments. Four elegant prizes areawarded. "The Rockwell Prize" to the member of the Sophomore class who wins the highest award for pro-ficiency in Latin. This was instituted by Professor E. F. Rockwell.

The Wiley medal in Mathematics, by Samuel H. Wiley, Esq., of Salisbury. The Holt medal in Greek; given by Thomas M. Holt, Esq., of Haw River.
The Fowle medal in Oratory, given by Judge Fowle, of Raleigh.

The decisions were awaited with breathless interest. The papers of the contestants for the Wiley medal were submitted to Professor A. R. Nelson, of Washington and Lee University, of Virginia and the award given in the large of the contest of the same contest. Virginia, and the award given to Henry Louis Smith, of Greensboro, N. C.

The papers of the contestants for the Rockwell Prize were passed upon by Prof. Pattin, of Erskine College, S. C.,

With reference to these various pa pers, the letters of the distinguished referees were, in part, read. pleasing to every lover of North Caro-ina, to hear the high, discriminating and unstinted words of praise of the training and scholarship evinced in these papers, and of the work done at Davidson College.

The award of the Fowle medal for oratory was made by a committee who passed judgment upon the exercises of the Junior Representatives who spoke last night, Colonel D. K. McRae, of Wilmington, the distinguished orator and scholar, reported on behalf of the committee, their difficulty in discriminating between two, although all had done well; but that the judgment was made in favor of J. E. Dunlap, of Rock Hill, S. C.

Each of these announcements was re eived with enthusiastic applause. At the request of Dr. Hepburn, Judge Fowle distributed the prizes. With well chosen words, in exquisite taste, he gave to each the appropriate reward. No one in that vast audience can forget the thrill that he felt as the silvertongued orator spoke, especially of ora-tory, and urged the conquest of grander victories. For about twenty minutes with wonderful power Judge Fowle spoke, wielding the multitude at will and eliciting their heartiest appiause.

Degrees were announced by the President. No honerary degree of D. D. or LL. D. was given. The degree of A. M. in course was conferred on two and causa honoris upon one. The following received the degree of

Bachelor of Arts: A G Buckner, N C, J A Hodges, N C O A McGregor, N C, J W Osborn, N C, P Ramsay, Ala, B P Reid, S C, and A Wilson, S C. The following received the degree of Bachelor of Science:

A P Brown, S C, W H Cozart, Ga. The Valedictory Oration was then delivered by Franklin P. Ramsay, of Troy, Ala. Besides the sad words of parting, he discussed with great vigor and tenderness the law of growth, and closed with adieux that moved even the most indifferent.

The exercises were closed with the benediction, pronounced by Rev. L. McKinnon, President of the Board. The vast assembly slowly dispersed and greetings, smiles and tears, every-where, as slowly the crowd left and and lingered. The Commencement is over.

TIME'S CHANGES.

GENERAL ROBERT II. ANDERSON INTERVIEWED.

Revolution in Gunnery in Twenty-Two Years---West Point

Reminiscences

New York Herald. General Robert H. Anderson, of Georgia, member of the Board of Visitors at West Point, in talking to your correspondent to day, made some interesting remarks about the past and present of the Academy. "It is twentywo years ago," said he, "since I graduated here, but there was some difference in the studies then and now. There was an examination in gunnery, but none in ordnauce, that being an addigunnery has undergone a complete revolution. Why, the largest pieces we ever saw were ten-inch, and besides all the new fangled ideas in ordnance, rifled shells and oblong shot that go through iron and stone like a knife, were then unknown. Why, at the breaking out of the war as good an artillery officer as General Lee was satisfied Fort Pulaski was safe from Gilmore's guns at a mile distance, but three and four miles was nothing impossible to Gilmore's artillery. Another study they have here now is much more extensive than it was over twenty years ago, and that is law. We merely years ago, and that is law. We merely studied principles of international law, but now there is enough taught to set a man up in business as a lawyer; besides they have what is called a Judge Advocate, whose business is all law. In old times an officer, when the occasion called for it, was detailed to attend to the necessary leaves to be because of the processory.

the necessary legal business, and that over he returned to his army duties." "What graduates in your class be-came distinguished in the Confederate "Well, several of them were killed early in the war who promised to be brilliant. There were Generals Strong and Putnam, besides Marmaduke, who was well known, and Kirby Smith."

"Do you recognise any old comrades "Only a few, who are instructors or

"How do you get on with the Union officers?' "Very well. As Bishop Beckwith said of the Episcopal Church in the late struggle. 'We cherish no animosities struggle. 'We cherish no animosities between brethren,' and so with men of West Point. Though on opposite sides they were ever ready to clasp hands, and no set of men ever left a college or institution of this kind who cherish such ardent friendships for each other as the graduating class of West Point. Theirs is more than a Masonic tie, and many illustrations of its strength and fervor were shown during the late "What else do you find changed here,

"Well, all the changes I have noted are for the better. The quality of the food is greatly improved, and not alone that, but the cadets are charged less for it than in my time. It was a good idea to take the supplying away from a civilian and give it to an officer like the one who has charge of it at present— Commissary Mills. Another thing to be commended is the superintendency of General Schofield. He is managing this academy with great tact and wisdom. In place of using repressive measures, he has trusted greatly for the observance of rules and discipline to the honor of the boys, and he has never been deceived. He allows them to go boating on the river up and down, and several other small indulgences that in no way interfere with the strict discharge of duty, and yet the boys' lives are all the brighter and more cheerful."

"How is your State of Georgia getting "Georgia is going forward to a pros-perous destiny. Every town of any consequence in the State is increasing in wealth and size. The colored people have turned round to steady work, and the whole population has but one object in view, the material advance-

"You don't bother much with polities?" "Not much. Don't even vote. "What do you think of Tilden's chances in the South?" "I don't toink much of them. A much stronger man than Tilden would be General Hancock, but the Southern people are far less anxious about politial matters than you would ever imag-

ment of the State."

In different sections of the country omplaints are heard of the country complaints are heard of the prevalence of diphtheritic diseases and attributing the scourge to the poisonous qualities of the water taken from the wells; and now comes the statement that the peonow comes the statement that the people of Auburn, Me., have very generally dispensed with wells and well water, and now use the aqueduct water. The result is a marked decrease in typhoid and diphtheritic diseases. At Wilmington some ten days ago the wells were all pumped out, the water being so bad that it was considered unsafe to use it.

safe to use it. There is not the least doubt that in many cases the wells are the prime sources of disease, and especially when located in the streets where they can receive the wash from the gutters. Another thing, wells should never be closely covered—there should be an opening for the vapors to escape. Farm wells are generally left open and this probably accounts for the excellence of the water. In the case of reservoir water, so largely used in the northern cities, the whole surface is exposed to the air and besides it is constantly in motion, the streams through the mains, owing to the draft made upon them, running nearly all the time. That some of the wells in this city are foul is well known, especially the one in front of the market house, the water of which is absolutely unfit to drink.

It should be examined, and the fault remedied, or else the pump should be removed to avoid possible danger.

A Little Mystery.

The Anson Veterans were the recipients, last week, of a handsome table to be used in their armory. Mr. George Stronach, the gentleman to whom the Company are indebted for the above useful and valuable present, resides in Raleigh, and is one of those enterprising gentlemen that any community may well feel proud of. The only intima-tion the Company had of the above was its arrival with a card attached, directed as follows: "To Co. 'K' 2d N. C. S. G. I am authorized by George T. Stronach, Esq., to send to your armory this eard table, with his compliments." Mr. Morris, the furnitureman of this city, says Mr. S.ronach sent a card table to Co. "K" N. C. S. THE LEGAL TENDER CASE.

The legal tender case, which Mr. Chittenden and General Butler agreed to push to a speedy decision, has been promptly made and passed upon by the United States Circuit Court, and has already gone to the Supreme Court for trial at the October term. The action is brought by Augustus D. Juillard, a cotton dealer of New York, to recover $5,100 due for cotton sold to Thomas S. Greenman, of Connecticut. The defendant tendered in payment certain United States notes which had been redeemed and again reissued, but the plaintiff refused to receive them and brings suit for the amount. Judge Blatchford gave judgment for the defendant, pro forma, so that the case might go directly to the United States Supreme Court on appeal. Senator Edmunds will argue the case before that the reissued notes are not a legal tender, and General Butler will argue for the defendant, urging the constitutionality of the issue.

The N. Y. Public, a journal devoted to finance, says, in substance that this case is one of peculiar importance, if, as we presume, the able lawyers engaged have so framed the suit as to avoid the objection that it is a mere test case. It is quite possible that it may lead to results not originally contemplated by either of the disputants. If the court should decide, for example, that no issue of legal tender notes in time of peace is constitutional, and that the reissue after redemption is legally a new issue, would it not follow that the reissue of notes which had been paid into the Treasury for taxes since January 1st is also an unwarranted reissue? On the other hand, it may happen that the United States notes, if the decision of the court is adverse to their legal tender quality after reissue, may nevertheless, become more desired and more valuable than ever, first, because of the prospect that there would soon be a scarcity of them, as there is now of gold certificates, and, second, because the banks would prefer to keep them instead of coin.

A SOLID COMPANY.

There has been a large amount of speculation in stocks of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and fortunes have been made and lost within a comparatively short time. There was no essentially good reason why the speculative value of shares should fluctuate so, especially when the solid that Colonel John W. Groesbeck, of Cincinnati, committed suicide some time ago an account of his heavy losses in this stock, having sold against a further decline and losing about $100,-000 thereby. But now the announcement is made that the Company has at last decided to divide the surplus stock in its treasury among its shareholders, and an addition of 17 per cent. to the number of shares held by each person will therefore be made on Friday next, June 20th. The report of the company in other respects is exceedingly satisfactory, and it shows an available fund of over 9 per cent. on the entire stock as the result of the year's work. Exclusive of money put into the new lines, the earnings are equal to 81 per cent. of the entire stock.

It has been said for a long time by shrewd observers that the Western Union Telegraph Company would never throw away its power to make a stock dividend of 17 per cent., until it had reached a position believed by the managers to be absolutely impregnable, both as to competition, and as to operations in its stock. Whenever anybody has been tempted to build up an opposition, and to sell Western Union stock "short," there has always been the restraining thought that, if at all sharply pressed, the company might at any time declare this dividend, and subject opposing speculators to a heavy loss. In this view, the course of the board must be regarded as the strongest possible proof that the condition of the company is now deemed impregnable.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal of Sunday had a cartoon of Deacon Richard Smith, of the Cincinnati Gazette, standing on a platform spying out the wickedness in Kentucky, while behind him crime in all forms is taking place in Ohio; while the explanatory article is brave with flaring head lines, as follows: "Hell's Half Acre." "Some-"times Facetiously termed 'God's "Country." "And Otherwise known "as the State of Ohio." "The Home of "the Truly Good Deacon Smith, but "the Favorite Stamping Ground of the "Horned Chief of Hell." "What the "Ohio Papers of only Twelve Days "have Brought." "Diabolism in all "the Hideous Forms of Satan's In-"iquity." "Sodom and Gomorrah Re-"tire with a Blazing Blush." "The "Keen Knife, the Ready Revolver, the "Red Torch, the Swift Poison." "A "Reign of Unbridled Lust; Scratch an "Ohioan and Find a Turk." "Holding "a Boy over a Fire and Deliberately "Roasting Him Alive," etc. This is followed by a page of cited cases.

AMERICUS VESPUCIUS RICE has consented to add his ponderous name to that of Ewing on the Ohio ticket. His pretended reluctance has deceived many people into a belief that he is really stronger man than Ewing. He is rather his inferior, both in ability and in earnestness. But Mr. Whitelaw Reid didn't pay much attention to their financial principles when he was bellowing for men to save his beloved Ohio from "Rebel" invasion. At the beginning of last week the New York banks reported a gain of only $1,000,000 in surplus reserve, but with rising averages, but currency has since been pouring in quite largely. One bank on Wednesday had a surplus reserve of over $1,000,000, which three days before had none, and this was but a type of the prevailing movement. Millions were set free that had been locked up in the $10 certificate operation, and millions more came back from the country. Money became very abundant and easy, and the chief anxiety among bankers now is to find proper employment for the enormous accumulation of funds which they foresee. Until the full basiness beginn, there is danger that speculation may be unduly stimulated by the abundance of idle

We had supposed that when an officer of the State was elected it was for purpose of serving the interests of the State without regard to purely partisan feelings. But it seems, if the Republican's idea is correct, that the Executive cannot undertake to secure justice for the State unless he hopes to "reap political gain" thereby. Littlefield was a fugitive from justice and it was the Governor's duty, no matter whether Republican or Democrat, to use his best endeavors to secure the offender. He made the effort, and it was through no fault of his that he did not succeed. The Republican's spiteful suggestion will not injure Governor Jarvis in the POLITICAL NOTES.

There are rumors that the Republicans in the Senate will oppose some of the appropriation bills and insist on amending them, as was done by Mr. Keifer and others in the House. These men are vexed at the success of the administration in the vetoes, and imagine that Mr. Hayes and Mr. Sherman have got too much glory and have gained too good a standing in the party during the extra session. They seem to be planning for a new grievance against he administration to revive the old quarrel within the party.-New York

Grant will never be elected, nor even nominated, unless the Democratic leaders rush into some fatal folly that will fire and consolidate the North with rekindled passions of the war, and at the same time alarm those conservative interests which in troublous times are always ready to range themselves on the side of force. Democratic blundering is the only hope of hungry waiters upon a restoration of Grantism.-Galveston News.

One interesting peculiarity of the Ohio campaign is that the only party which has not placed a Union soldier at the head of the ticket is the Republican party, which so loudly insists that the Union is in danger and must be saved again by the use of Union soldiers at the polls. It would appear that they are to be "used at the polls" in every capacity excepting that of candidate.

New York World.

The spread of the Sherman movement appears to be calling together some-thing like an organized opposition from Republican politicians. The New York Times apparently lends its Washington correspondent to the anti-Sherman "boom."—Springfield Republican.

The New York Times, which the Boson Herald aptly characterizes "as stalwart as it is profitable to be for the in-terests of the party," continues to gravely deprecate the part taken by Republicans in Congress in reviving and adding new fuel to the dying embers of sectional strife and distrust.— Springfield Republican.

Afraid of the Currency Question. That the Republicans of Ohio are afraid of the currency question is evident at every point. First, in their ticket. They dared not nominate John Sherman, the author of the faith and the "finisher" of a large fraction of the business of the State. Second, they dodged the question in their platform, not daring to mention the silver ques-tion at all. Third, John Sherman and his whole party feared the co-operation of Democrats and Greenbackers.

A Good Thing for Northern People. Greenfield (Mass.) Gazette.

The Springfield Republican wants Jeff. Davis or some other live South-erner to do Springfield's orating at the immense Fourth of July celebration they have under preparation. Some of The Republican's contemporaries tremblingly declare "it would never do." They needn't be afraid of Jeff Davis as far from home as this. Even on his own soil a newspaper interviewer approached him and the Confederate president didn't eat him up. No, he would not bite anybody, and as the Republican suggests, it would be a good thing for Northern people to hear his views. Medical.

GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

An old gent'eman of eighty-four, having tal e: to the altar a damsel of sixteen, the clergyman said to him: "You will find the font at the opposite end of the church." "What do I want with the font?" asked the old gentleman. "I beg your pardon," said the clerical wit. "I thought you had brought the child to be christened."

A clergyman, who was consoling a young widow on the death of her husband, spoke in a very serious tone, remarking that he was "one of the few. Such a jewel of a Christian-you cannot find his equal, you well know." To which the sobbing mir one replied, with an almost broken heart: "I'll bet

Medical.

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseaved, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow Merrett, and Martine, the great vegetable discovery for torpidit, causes the liver to throw off from one to vo ounces of bile end time the blood passes through it, as long as ancre is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking Hupatins in accordance with directions. Headache is generally curred in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

Fray & Morson's Exercises.

The closing exercises of the Raleigh Male Academy took place at the Insti-tute for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind last night, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. E. R. Stamps made the annual address. and was as usual not only eloquent and graceful, but very interesting and in-structive. The declamations of the students were, as might have been expected, carefully prepared, delivered with fine effect and exhibited the careful training of the talented and accomplished professors under whose tuition they have been for the past term. This school is doing a great good in this community and is meeting with liberal patronage. Messrs. Fray and Morson are thoroughly competent as teachers and keep pace with all the advance of science in all that appertains to the development of the youthful mind.

Dysentery Remedy. Upon the first intimation of a loose ness of the bowels, take about one table spoonful of wheat flour, put it in a tin plate over the fire and constantly stir it till it is burnt very brown. Let the patient eat the burnt flour, without any lrink whatever, and miss one meal of victuals. All symptoms of the malady hours. It serves as food and medicine both. For very small children, a little pulverized sugar may be mixed with it, which makes it more palatable, though it is not disagreeable without. The bowels will be left in a healthy condition, which can't be said of all medicines. If the complaint has been running several days, it may take a little more of the remedy, and a little longer time, but it will surely accom-

Salem Agricultural Works.

It always affords us pleasure to record the success of a worthy enterprise undertaken by any citizen of our State, more especially so when it is an enterprise that is intended to supply at home articles that our citizens have heretofore been compelled to procure from abroad. We have a notable instance of the success of such an enterprise in the large number of brick machines and saw mills which are now being manufactured and sold by the Salem Agricultural and Iron Works, Salem, N. C. Their brick machine, and the leading feature of their saw mill are both purely North Carolina inventions, by native North Carolinians. The Allen brick machine which they are building, is finished in such good style as to suggest its being the product of some first-class Northern machine shop. It works beatifully, and makes a handsome specimen of pressed brick, at the rate of one thousand per hour. A number of the machines are at work at different points in the State, which we learn are giying the best satisfaction. Their im provement in circular saw mills was patented October 30, 1877, and since that time, but little more than one year an half, they have sold twenty-one of their saw mills and set works. These mills will compare favorably with any other first-class saw mills, and the ar-rangement for setting the log to the saw is fully equal to the best, while the price is far below the price of other first-class saw mills. BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879. -The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, Esq., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observ-ing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the 'Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully, WILLIAM BARR. LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.-WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me, The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for va-rious other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WAD-DILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News. For sale by Wm. Simpson, Pescud, Lee & Co., and F. H. Heartt, Raleigh, Prejudice Kills.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her dis-ease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, be-fore using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents.

Haunted Me. Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor. I procured Hop Bitters and com-menced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your fami-lies well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost.— A Workingman.

$100,000 Going a-Begging. At the last June Distribution of the Louisiana State Lottery Company a worthy but impecunious coal merchant of New Orleans drew, for ten dollars invested, one hundred thousand dol lars. There are just as good opportunities for some one offered under the management of Generals Beauregard and Early, at New Orleans, on June 17th next. For further information, address M. A. Daupin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans.

Would an Irredeemable Currency be as good as gold? While there is a very large class of intelligent citizens who believe it would, we regard it our duty to all alike to say that as a cure for old sores, cuts, bruises, jams and slashes, there is nothing like Carbolic Salve. Beware of
